Class Prophecy

The following are excerpts from the more prominent columns of the New York papers, dated June 12, 1944.

Jean McKenzie, dramatic editor of the New York Mirror, issues the following:

. . . The "Scandals" which opened on Broadway last night is the hottest, fastest show of the century. It is under the personal direction of that sensational producer, Allen Jones. Frances Rosa and Norman McClure, new stage idols, play the leads in this new musical revue. The supporting cast includes that riotous comedy team, Ryder and Jerauld, and that nationally known radio crooner, Lonnie Cahoon. One hundred and fifty world famous beauties, including those high-stepping twins of rhythm, Grace McKay and Florence MacEacheron, comprise the chorus. Four current song successes, written by that eminent band maestro, T. Keith Tobey, assisted by "Rubinoff" Jones, were introduced at the premiere by America's foremost exponent of sizzling syncopation, Saun Whitney and her Harlem Hotshots. . . . Part of the success is due to the fine staff backstage: Stage Director, Bill Wright; Costume Designer, Ethel Fay; Scenery Artists, Roberta Raymond and Thelma Petow; and Property Manager, Bradford Gardner. . . . Among the first nighters were Elva Ellis and Cecil Hammond, who recently returned from missionary work in India; the former Mildred Jones, now the wife of a famous engineer; Milton Simpson, the multimillionaire and a host of other celebrities.

Sport slants from the New York Times . . . Bill Bearse, P. G. A. titleholder, and Irv Fuller, national amateur champ, will battle it out next week in the National Open. . . . We congratulate Joe Sutherland on his taking over the Christy Walsh Syndicate. The "Old Dynamiter" pulled a fast one in adding Bob "Tip" O'Neil, to the list of writers which already includes "Fat" Fratus, head football mentor at N. Y. U.; Ted Bentinnen, world's pole vault record holder and present track coach at Yale, and Fran Childs, physical director at Kiskee. . . . "Doc" Doudican, noted surgeon, will perform a delicate operation on Jerry Bowes' pitching arm in an effort to bring back that no hit, no run ability he lost pitching for the Ecco stores. . . . "Tut" Crosby, Longwood pro, and Dave Henderson, Forest Hills, will start their nationwide tour of the tennis strongholds. . . . Mary Otis, head coach, and Eleanor Hill, assistant, have been turning out fine athletic teams at Posse Nissen. . . . Bill McIntyre was recently signed by Coach Nat Holman of the Celtics. . . . Herby Lyons and Barnie Pierce, two leading heavyweights, have been signed by Promoter "Bud" Burlingame for a Boston bout.

Flash from Washington in the Herald . . . Senators Paul Murray, New York, Earl White, Michigan, and William Maud, Massachusetts, with their respective secretaries, Elspeth Reid, Elsa Starck and Ellen Ruska left for New York last night to confer with John Moda, head of the American Federation of Labor, concerning current labor problems.

From Barbara Bearse's "Cape Cod Comments" in the Standard . . . Arvid Anderson is head of the Boy Scout Movement on the Cape. . . . June Burlingame and Clara Crocker, two of Cape Cod's leading debutantes, were married at a double wedding last week. . . . Evelyn Bassett has joined the art school at Provincetown. . . . Velma Behlman was the interior decorator of the new summer home of Edna Lannquist, the first woman governor of Massachusetts. The construction work was done by William Niemisto and a beautiful garden was laid out at this palatial mansion in Hyannisport by Eino Kahelin. Inga Starck has become the governor's secretary and Helen Wirtainen is her assistant. The housekeeper, Reva Pells; governess, Virginia Bennett; caretaker, Alfred Nickerson; and chauffeur, Don Field, comprise the domestic staff at the home. Boston's Traffic Commissioner, Donald Reid; State's Attorney General, Pearl Bodfish, and Supervisor of Education, Evelyn Meserve, and their secretaries, Virginia McLane, Persis Jones, and Martha Bystrom, are visiting Governor Lannquist at her home for the week-end on matters of state business. . . . Jean Lus, matron at the Cape Cod Hospital, and Elma Salmi, nurse, have had their appointments renewed. . . . Bertha Salo, Ethel Leeman, and Althea Teren have been added to the teaching staff at the Barnstable High School. . . . Irving Pelton was recently elected President of the Cape Cod Fish and Game Association. . . . Harold Staples has been made chief detective of the Barnstable Police Department. . . . A new library has just been opened in Osterville with Norma Williams in charge. . . . Barbara Williams has established a kindergarten next door to her sister's library. . . . Violet Siira has been made secretary at the Barnstable High School. . . .

Last Will and Testament

In behalf of our clients, the class of '34 of Barnstable High School, Barnstable County, in the State of Massachusetts, the United States of America, we being of the firm of Bearse, Bowes, and Tobey, law advisors par excellence barring none, have hereby assembled you here on this day of June, to hear the last Will and Testament of the Senior Class of 1934.

Our clients, in spite of the trying times and unusual disturbances in the world today, have tried to be generous and honest in their bequests. They deeply regret that due to the aforesaid causes and to the financial and educational standing of the members of their organization, they are unable to leave gifts of greater value to their reputable school mates and to their beloved teachers. We hope that the donees will accept these trifles with good grace, realizing that they were given with a fathomless feeling of love, gratitude, and affection.

Accordingly, listen, my friends, while I read to you the Holy and Sacred Document which the class of 1934, being of balanced minds and similar mental diseases acquired in High School, and being fully aware that the time has come for it to depart from this earthly body, has had drawn up and duly sworn to:

We, the class of '34, individually and collectively, being about to pass from this world of education into a world of higher learning and more responsibilities, do hereby make and publish this, our last Will and Testament. We request that our funeral services be carried on by our friends and advisors, the principal and his faculty, and that our ashes be buried before the entrance to B. H. S. so that we may ever gaze upon the institution in which our intellects, morals, and traits of character were born.

To the undergraduates we place trust that they may always venerate B. H. S. and do nothing to ever obliterate the cherished memories of our four years' duration in that institution. We hope that they will attempt to follow in our footsteps along the straight and narrow path and climb firmly heavenward to the goal which we have reached.

Arvid Anderson wills his supernatural intelligence to all his brothers and sisters.

"Bill" Bearse leaves a portion of his footage to Miss Hayden.

Lawrence Cahoon and David Henderson bequeath their power to attract females to Henry Small.

Mary Otis bequeaths her ninety-eight pounds of vim, vigor, and vitality to Ruth Pelton.

Elva Ellis and Evelyn Meserve will their giggles to Audrey Williams.

"Jerry" Bowes, "Ed" Doudican, "Bob" O'Neil, and "Joe" Sutherland leave their class "spirit" to "Sparkey" Drew.

"Bud" Burlingame, "Don" Field, Norman McClure, Harold Staples, and Eino Kahelin will their "but's" to "Joe" Hallett.

Irving Fuller, "Don" Reid, Ellen Ruska, and Barbara Williams leave their hearts, souls, and everlasting love to certain members of the undergraduate body.

"Fat" Fratus leaves his oratorical talent to Football Captain George Tsiknas.

"Bradie" Gardner wills his dimples to Miss Williams.

"Buster Jones, Milton Simpson, and "Tut" Crosby bequeath a well-worn book entitled, "Spicy Stories of Life in Gay Paree," to "Bud" Doudican.

Irving Pelton leaves his high sonorous voice to Mr. Griffiths to be used in the singing of soprano solos.

Jean McKenzie wills her stately and robust figure to Isobel Brown.

John Moda leaves his "h's" to Miss Twomey.

"Herbie" Lyons wills his sweet smile to Frances Caswell.

"Bill" Maud leaves his fleet feet to Wilho Maki.

Alfred Nickerson bequeaths his used razor blades to Dexter Patterson.

Velma Behlman, June Burlingame, Edna Lannquist, Virginia McLane, and Frances Rosa will their combined bashfulness to Janet Howland.

Cecil Hammond leaves his calm and collected personality to "Kennie" Esterbrooks.

"Ted" Benttinen, Kempton Jerauld, and "Bill" McIntyre bequeath their love for the fair sex to "Sam" Malchman.

Ethelind Fay and Althea Teren will a book, "How to Reduce," to Mildred Murray.

Clara Crocker leaves her constancy of devotion to Daphney Whitney.

Paul Murray wills permission to "Bob" Chase to go below the bridges.

Ethel Leeman, Pearl Bodfish, and Bertha Salo bequeath their talent in French to future members of Miss Twomey's class.

Thelma Petow wills her greatest asset, "bluff," to Gretchen Willard.

Carleton Ryder and "Bill" Wright bequeath their dramatic abilities to "Tom" Corrigan.

Elspeth Reid wills one red hair to Arlene Murray to add to her collection.

Barbara Bearse leaves her frankness to Helen Hinckley

Violet Siira, Roberta Raymond, Elma Salmi, Evelyn Bassett, and Jean Lus bequeath their flapperish ways to Edna Sherburne.

Persis Jones, Helen Wirtanen, Elsa and Inga Starck, and Grace McKay will their combined business ability to Flora Eaton.

"Gus" Whitney wills her three little pigs to Ruth Fay.

The class leaves all remains of any gustatory activities which have taken place in Room 109 to Mr. Hodge.

To the principal and his faculty, the Senior class leave their wishes for success in all their undertakings.

In Testimony, Whereof, We, the Class of 1934, the testators, hereunto set our hands, and in the presence of the required number of witnesses do hereby declare this to be our last Will, this day of June, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four.

History of the Class of 1934

Sophomore Year

Sponsor—Mr. Hancock

President—Evelyn Meserve

Vice-President—Donald Reid

Secretary—Saunie Whitney

Treasurer—Clara Crocker

Little did we realize in 1931 of the events that were to follow and the events we were to encounter in the coming years. Of course, as usual, we were the objects of contempt and ridicule of the upper classmen. Our opinions in any school matters carried little weight. This continued throughout the entire Sophomore year. However, we were able to place upon the football, baseball, basketball, and track squads several of our members who were to be depended upon for honors. Here we could see the foundation of successful teams in all sports in the succeeding two years, but this did not help the finances of the class any, and the Sophomore year ended with $1 in the treasury.

Junior Year

Sponsor—Miss Nehubian

President—Donald Reid

Vice-President—William Bearse

Secretary—Grace McKay

Treasurer—Clara Crocker

The Junior year was as fast as the Sophomore year was slow. Events followed in rapid succession starting with the Letter Dance on December 15, which was a success. Then followed the Minstrel Show on February 24, which we had been preparing for all winter. This was the greatest success both in popularity and finances that the school had ever witnessed, and left the Junior class with comparatively large resources, exceeding by far the financial resources of our haughtier upper classmen. In April we had an Easter Dance which further enlarged our treasury. Now we began the preparation for a Junior Prom which was to be glamorous beyond all conception. A committee was appointed to make this prom a success, whose duties were to take charge of all decorating, ticket selling, furnishing the prom with music, and seeing that everything went smoothly the night of the event. As the night of June 16 approached, long hours were spent in converting the gymnasium into an underwater scene. Of course, the prom was a social success, and, although it did not enlarge our coffers any, we felt amply repaid. This closed our activities for the Junior year, other than acting as ushers at the Senior graduation.

Senior Year

Sponsor—Miss Nehubian

President—Robert O'Neil

Vice-President—Thad Tobey

Secretary—Clara Crocker

Treasurer—William Bearse

The Senior class started off in the usual manner with the elections. No longer were we looked down upon by the upper classmen. There were none. We were the upper classmen, and with this feeling we carried on everything. This year the class sponsor was appointed by the Principal. He very kindly appointed Miss Nehubian for sponsor with the assistant as Miss Burns. Another change in our program was brought about by the limiting of the number of events that the class was allowed to put on. The first activity was a Letter Dance, which went off with the usual success. Right after this we began preparations for another Minstrel Show. So on the night of February 21, we put on our show before a packed house. This show netted us more profit than any other activity that we or any other class had ever put on, namely, over $200. This ended our money making events for the year. As usual for the Senior class, we had our pictures taken, and also the new feature of cap and gown was introduced. It was decided to wear our caps and gowns on graduation, and also to have our pictures taken in them for the Year Book. Although the plans for Class Day and Graduation have not yet definitely materialized, we are looking forward with great pleasure towards the same.

There are things in this report known only to the Seniors which have been left unsaid, because the committee thinks it best.

Secretary-Treasurer—Rita Burke
Directors—Miss Buckler—Mr. Milk

The club started its year's activities with a play, "The Mayor and the Manicure," given in assembly. "The Christmas Party" followed presented for the P. T. A., the Women's Club, and assembly. Next came the Cabaret which was a great success. Then a three act production, the famous "Little Women" for the benefit of the P. T. A. Following this an operetta entitled "Ask the Professor" given for the benefit of the music fund.

Miss Buckler and Mr. Milk are to be congratulated for their fine work.

Traffic Squad

The newly organized traffic squad under the direction of Mr. Bangs, has done excellent work in keeping order in the corridors this year. Captain Fratus has performed his duties very well. We hope the Juniors on this year's squad will carry on the work next year to a greater degree of efficiency because of their added experience.

Football

The football season of 1933 was a huge success from every angle. The team won seven games and lost two, both by a one touchdown margin.

Captain Earle Fratus, '34 who was picked for the All-Cape Team at the end of the season, was the outstanding player of the year. He gained many valuable yards and was an inspiration to his teammates all through the season.

Ed Doudican, Bill McIntyre, and Francis Childs were other seniors who were regulars. The first boy played a bang-up game at fullback, while the other two were outstanding linemen.

Other seniors who won the coveted "B's" were: I. Pelton, H. Burlingame, T. Benttinen, P. Murray, J. Bowes, D. Field.

The Junior and Sophomore classes contributed greatly to the football success, and under Capt.-Elect Tsiknis, these boys should carry on the task let down by the players who are lost by graduation.

Girls' Field Hockey

From the small squad which turned out for Field Hockey this season a successful team was formed, winning four games out of the six played.

Captain Hill, Johnson, and Chase were the only "regulars" from last year's team. The rest of the team was formed of inexperienced girls, who fought hard to keep up their end of the score.

First Row: Earle Fratus, William Bearse, Edward Doudican, Captain, Earle White, Otis Luomala

Boys' Basketball

Winning fourteen games and losing one, the Barnstable hoop squad had its most successful season in many moons. They lost by 4 points to Provincetown on the latter's home floor.

Seniors were the main cogs in the team this year with Captain Ed Doudican, Bill McIntyre, Bill Bearse, and Earle White, all members of the class of '34, playing regular. Captain Doudican and Center McIntyre were the main cogs on the defense, while "Red" Drew, '35, Earle White and Bill Bearse attended to most of the scoring. Earle Fratus, '34, was a member of the second team, playing well, while Otis Luomola, '35, played at intervals on both the first and second quintets.

Coach V. Bearse deserves great credit for his fine work done, and I am sure that the Juniors and Sophs will do well, although four of the five men on this years varsity will be lost by graduation.

Back Row: Saunie Whitney, Miss Nehubian, Coach, Ruth Fay
First Row: Marion Coggeshall, Ethel Leeman, Geraldine Lovell, Edna Lannquist, Captain, Mary Otis, Frances Rosa, Louise Lebel

Girls' Varsity Basketball

As usual, the Girl's Basketball Squad of the Barnstable High School has completed a successful season after playing a difficult schedule. Out of the ten games played, the girls met with only one defeat, at Provincetown. The home games were easily won with Barnstable piling up a large score, but the return games were a little more difficult.

Scores of the games

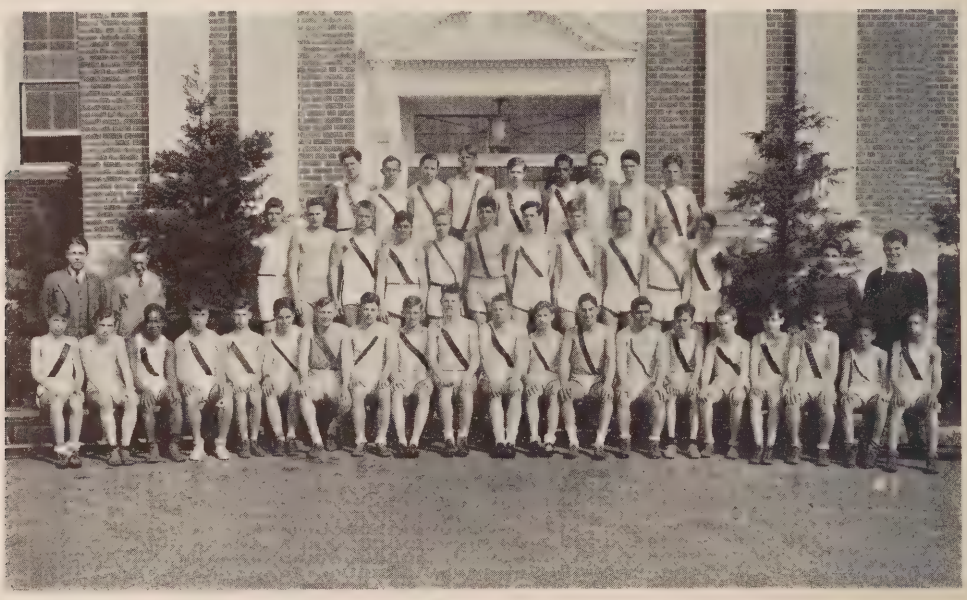
Baseball

With a veteran team representing B. H. S. the season started off with two straight wins, and prospects for a very successful season were bright. Coach Bearse didn't cut his squad, and freshmen were numerous.

Seniors on the team were headed by Captain "Bill" Bearse, catcher, "Fat" Fratus played second base when he wasn't twirling, "Jerry" Bowes alternated between short stop and first base. "Tut" Crosby showed prospects of pitching fame and was used frequently.

Juniors comprised the main part of the team. "Bill" Drew, "Buck" Hallett, Wilho Maki, "Ed" Thacher, Otis Luomola, Joe Fermino, Tom Coleman, and Henry Small are varsity men from the class of '35.

The class of '36 gave "Doug" Holmes, "Gerry" Besse, and "Don" Grauer, with Besse being a regular at second.



Back Row: Maurice Rucker, William Banks, Theodore Hinckley, Wilho Maki, Laughlin Crocker, David Greene, Otis Luomala, William Hoffman, Donald Field
Second Row: Mr. Bangs, Joseph Sutherland, John Lebel, Allen Sundalin, Theodore Benttinen, Francis McGillen, William Ruska, Joseph Fermino, Robert Cahoon, Norman Penniman, Oswald Ruska, Kalku Pukki, Norman Williams, Albert Halberstadt, Walter Shuttleworth

Track

The track season of 1934 started off with one victory in three meets. Not too impressive a record, but Coach Bangs can smile because his inexperienced men gained confidence and experience.

Captain Don Reid, '34, Tsiknas, Sanford, and Whipple, all '35, are the high jumpers, with Captain Reid topping them all.

Ted Benttinen, '34, is the mainstay in the pole vault, cinching the Plymouth meet with a vault of nine feet.

Milt Simpson, '34, Hopkins, Cahoon, both '36, and Benttinen, '34, are the broad jumpers. Another Senior who stars in an event is MacIntyre, discus.

Juniors are the mainstay of the field events, with Maki, Rodin, Whipple, Rucker, Fermino, and Tsiknas participating.

Simpson and Sundelin, '34, and Ruska, '35, are the 100 men with the latter two doubling in the 220.

The 440 produces Hoffman, '35, and Childs, '34, both being point winners.

The 880 has Childs, '34, Maud, '34, and Greene, '36, as its participants.

The team is lacking in stars, but makes up for this in its even balance in all events.
